Easter Island

Easter Island is a small triangle of rock situated in the Pacific Ocean. It's about 2,000 miles ----- the nearest city. Easter Island is ----- for its statues. Hundreds of these huge, stone faces can be ----- all over the island. Who made them? How ----- they move these giant pieces of rock? What happened ----- the people who lived there? Studies show that people ----- arrived on the island about 1600 years ago. They had a very advanced culture. They made many objects and they had their ----- written language. However, the number of people on the island grew and grew ----- it reached about 10,000 people. Soon there were too many people and there wasn't ----- food to eat. A terrible war started and ----- of the statues were broken. When western explorers ----- the island on Easter Day in 1722, the huge rock statues were the only sign that a great society had once lived there.
